

Nhi Tran, M.A., BCBA

Board Certified Behavior Analyst

Nhi is a Board Certified Behavior Analyst (BCBA) specializing in ABA and Early Intervention. She earned her Bachelor's Degree in Early Childhood Development at San Jose State University and her Masters in ABA at Ball State University. Nhi began as an RBT in 2014 and continued on in the field until passing her BCBA certification in February 2020. With 11 years of experience in ABA, Nhi has worked with a wide range of ages, culture, and diverse communities with various behavioral and developmental needs. She is truly passionate and committed to providing support for individuals of all ages and ensuring programming is client specific to their needs. She also holds a strong devotion to promote parent involvement and collaboration in their child's development. As a wife and mother of 2 girls, she advocates for equal opportunity and promoting the true definition of living a meaningful life. Outside of work, she enjoys spending time with her family and exploring all of the amenities that this community offers.
